

The Insider

Don't worry Browns and Steelers fans, Annamarie does NOT cheer for the Baltimore Ravens! It is a different Ravens.

Annamarie Polishing Her Skills for 2019

Anna Mack has been diligently working on routines to “fire up” the boys on the gridiron. She is hopeful of a return trip to the Turkey Bowl next year to root, root, root for her brother’s team to victory. This poised and polished performer will be sure to elicit plenty of ooohs and aaahs from the football fanatics. GO BUCKS!

By Bill Nicolls

Hip Hop Elegy for Boots, The Cat

Nicolls Fam had losses this year: Uncle Don and oldest Cuz Hank, so dear. But someone else be missing in the fam: The soul of one Maine coon cat, on the lam.

Boots, the cat you need in a jam.
As felines score: he be grand slam.

Never ‘fraid to wear crimson and grey,
Boots was Jake and Lisa’s bae.
Travelling cat; home cat too.
Cat like a yoda mew mew.

Boots, the cat you need in a jam.
As felines score: he be grand slam.

With a coat of orange, white paws down low,
Boots was handsome ‘nuf to wear a chapeau.
Cool enough to hang for OSU games;
Managed Jake’s beer taps to lotsa acclaim.

Boots, the cat you need in a jam.
As felines score: he be grand slam

RIP ONE FLY CAT: BOOTSY

By C Lewis, friend o’ cat

The Truth Finally Revealed! By Jacob Bundy

Hello, IMADogginit31 here and I know the truth about the Turkey Bowl. Over the years, many people have said, wrote, and speculated about these games. Most look at them and think they are fun and harmless... but some have looked beyond the polished exterior into the dark background of this storied rivalry. It was 2016 when I began my investigations. Since then, I have interviewed and read and searched for the truth behind the Turkey Bowl. Finally, after all this time, the true is revealed.

The Silver Bucks

Like the red jerseys they wear the Silvers have long disguised their deeds. They are thought of as underdogs. They even enlisted children to join their franchise and had them play in real football games just to look innocent. The Silvers bitterness grew from their continued trouncing by the Young Bucks. Their desire to win has driven them to test experimental creams (Right On), kidnap college students with use of a pizza box, bribery, and even go back to the 70s to enlist Woody Hayes. They have tried to change the requirements for full time Silvers from the old “over 40” rule to 30 or when they are married or have a baby. They have even tried enlisting the Young’s captain Jammin’ Jake to join their team through salary increases. Yet, even though the Silvers have created some of the most elaborate plans to win, they have been defeated continually by the Young Bucks.

(Continued on page 2)

(Continued from page 1)

Hank Grover

Mr. Grover was the head referee for as far back as most like to admit. I have not known a time when Mr. Grover did not don his Level-Headed hat and take the field. But, was he always level minded in Turkey Bowl game decisions? Stories do not seem to point to this. Hank was known as a master of illusion. He somehow used a double headed coin for years yet the Youngs have never called him out on it. He also always let the Silvers call the coin. This system became so perfected that it was almost like a tradition. After watching hours of game footage, I have seen time and time again, where Grover shifted the tide for the Silvers.

The Young Bucks

Don't believe the Youngs are unblemished either. I have seen where the Youngs inexplicably win year after year. After looking at their winning average, I instantly smelled fowl play. The Youngs hide their tracks well, but here are some instances of suspicion. In 1999, an insert was added to the newsletter; it showed the writings of two Young bucks. The pictures seemed to indicate a Youngs victory but also a dark threat to the Silvers. Was this comic rambling or something more sinister? On the field in 2012, a Young buck is seen sweeping a path through the snow for a retired Silver Buck. However, while leaving, he is seen seemingly talking into his fist. Was this a kind gesture or a ploy to acquire the playbook of the Silvers? And who was the Young Buck speaking to? At the zoo in 2015, two future Young Bucks were seen discussing the plans for a Young Buck 2030 win. Then, in 2017 the Young Bucks sent an operative to Russia to acquire "dirt" on the Silvers.

My Discovery

I was a year into my research when I heard about this. What could this dirt be and why would it be so well hidden? My investigations led me to question the existence of our very game. One of my colleagues sent me several pictures from the Russian file that contains "the original pictures". I recognized many of them but all had one thing in common...a shadowy figure in the background.

At this time, I had been looking at an article by Poison Pen Pattye that pointed to a conspiracy involving Hank Grover, the Silvers, and several notable NFL (Nicolls Football League) figures. After reading this, I searched out Poison Pen. I found that although she had been seen prior to 2016, by Turkey Bowl 2017, she had disappeared. Further research into the article uncovered an old first draft that mentioned a company that seemed to have given the Silvers a substantial amount of money. I looked into this, and came to several startling conclusions. First was that the Silvers had acquired the 7 million dollars in the bribery of Hank Grover from this company. Digging deeper into history, I found this company not only had provided money, but also the jerseys and the name Silvers.

I tracked the company to NIT (Nicolls Institute of Technology). NIT had created an instant replay a few years ago; however it was deemed "untrustworthy" and shut down. At NIT, I found emails full of instructions to NIT which were sent from an unknown sender. The only identification was a picture of a turkey. I realized Poison Pen had been onto something. I then realized that the Turkey Bowl committee, which had been talked about and referred to multiple times, didn't have any connection to the Nicolls! That's when I realized that Pen had gotten too close to something. The secret of who was behind the Turkey Bowl? The Turkey Bowl? Why is it called that and not the Thanksgiving Bowl or the Nicolls Bowl? Upon closer investigation of the pictures from Russia, I saw the shadowy figure was a turkey who was apparently making deals with both teams. I had discovered the All-Seeing Turkey. He appears everywhere. Photos in newsletters, in the thanksgiving DVDs, even on the cookies that we eat!

My Plan

I have found the truth behind our precious Turkey Bowl game. The All-Seeing Turkey desires only one thing, to end our thanksgiving celebration with anger and bitterness, turning father against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother...family against family. I must stop him! In case no one ever hears from me again, I will contact a close Nicolls relative and he will pass this on to the rest of the clan. I am going to end this once and for all.

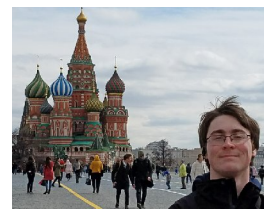

To "simplify" the coin toss, Hank instituted the coin with two heads.

The controversial 1999 Newsletter insert

From a 2016 Poison Pen Pattye article—proof of collusion?

The 2017 Youngs operative in Russia digging up Silver dirt

